

May 8, 2012Johns Hopkins Hospital Request for 300 Additional LHHF Gift Packages for Cancer Patients

The Sidney Kimmel Comprehensive Cancer Center at Johns Hopkins requested an additional 300 gift packages for their cancer patients after the successful distribution of our first delivery of 300 gift packages last year. We are happy to tell you they were so well received by the patients and their families at the Hackerman-Patz Pavilion, that they are now being placed at the front desk to be handed as a welcoming gift to patients at check-in.

Board Member Jim Martell accompanied Light of Healing Hope Foundation Founder and President Alexandra de Borchgrave to hand deliver the order on Tuesday May 8th. Sarah Hoehlein and Amanda Klass, along with Director of Public Affairs, Amy Mone, were there to receive the gift packages on behalf of the Cancer Center.

LHHF gift packages at the front desk of the Hackerman-Patz Pavilion“We consistently hear from patients and their caregivers...”~ Sarah Hoehlein

*Director, Joanne and Norman Rockwell Residential Living Program
The Hackerman-Patz Patient and Family Pavilion at the Johns Hopkins Kimmel Cancer Center*

“Thank you for your kindness.”“May God of heavens bless your kindness to us.”“During these trying times, it’s nice to know that there is still kindness and compassion in this world.God Bless!”~ Comments from PatientsSarah Hoehlein, Alexandra de Borchgrave, Amanda Klass“Blowfish” sculpture by Robert Israel

Sarah Hoehlein graciously guided Alexandra and Jim on a tour of the spectacular new Johns Hopkins Hospital, the Charlotte R. Bloomberg Children’s Center, where 70 artists have created more than 500 on-site inspiring installations, and the Sheikh Zayed Tower, named after the late Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan Al Nahyan, founder and first president of the United Arab Emirates.

Image copyright: <http://www.dwell.com/articles/Public-Art-at-Johns-Hopkins.html>

